

Mrs. Roorda- Music Teacher and Chorus Director

My name is Beth Roorda and I am very excited to be teaching music at All Saints Catholic Academy this year. This is my first year at All Saints, but I have been teaching at several Catholic schools for the past 3 years. I have taught in public and private schools since 2004. I attended Houghton College, where I received my Bachelor's in Music Education, and Ithaca College, where I earned my Master's in Music Education. My primary instrument is the French Horn, but I also enjoy playing many other instruments including flute, clarinet, trumpet, and saxophone.

When I am not teaching I enjoy reading, sewing, and especially baking. I also love spending time with my husband and two children.
